Wehrmacht Is Launched Germany's First Men In Uniform Since 1945

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany today launched its new Wehrmacht, putting men into uniform for the first time in more than 10 years. It called to the colors the first 101 for the 500,000-strong force to be built up by 1959.

Disillusioned by the Russian refusal at Geneva to reunite their divided country, they buckled down—after five years of delays—to raising their contribution to the Atlantic Alliance. In a simple ceremony Defense Minister Theodor Blank handed call-up papers to the first volunteers. A dozen were in uniform. There was no band to play the national anthem. It was the complete reverse of the bugle-blowing bombast of the Nazi era.

Blank stood under a giant Iron Cross—symbol of German military power—as he pledged that the new Wehrmacht would only be used to defend the peace and unity of Europe.

They also said he declined to talk and refused to touch the food on his trays, as he has done since noon Tuesday.

During his five-day trial the 26-year-old Carpenter fought with bailiffs and gave vent to occasional shouts. Once he threw himself on the floor and, on another occasion, leaped into the air like a jack-in-the-box.

He was convicted Friday night of murdering Detective William J. Murphy. The Criminal Court jury decided on execution as his penalty.

A hearing on a motion for a new trial was set for Nov. 22.

Carpenter shot down Detective Murphy Aug. 15 when the officer tried to seize him for a series of stickups. He wounded Clarence Kerr, a rookie cop, in a gun duel Aug. 17 in a Northwest Side theater.

Report Crisis Threatens New Argentina Regime

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — A split in Argentina's post-Péron government touched off widespread reports Saturday night that a crisis threatens the provisional regime.

The crisis came less than eight weeks after the dictatorship of Juan D. Péron was overthrown.

High army officers were reportedly conferring Saturday night at the 1st infantry regiment headquarters, at the Campo De Mayo and in the army ministry. Informants said another meeting was held at the navy ministry.

Provisional president Eduardo Lonardi was said to be at the 1st infantry headquarters for some unannounced reason.

Hundreds of demonstrators marched down the Avenue De Mayo shouting against "Nazis." The division in the young government apparently is between right wing nationalists and middle roaders.

Lonardi dropped attorney Eduardo Basso Saturday as his minister of justice and interior. The move was regarded by authoritative observers as a victory for Roman Catholic influences.

(NBC broadcast a dispatch from Robert Lindley, its Buenos Aires reporter, saying: "The new government in Argentina is about to topple or has already fallen. President Lonardi has disappeared and the supreme court and the cabinet have resigned.")

ITCHY CONVICT SEEKS WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Convict Joseph A. Wagstaff told a Federal Court Saturday he was put in Alcatraz Prison's solitary with an equivalent of the seven year itch—and the warden wouldn't allow him a single cigarette to smoke.

This asserted Wagstaff in a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, constitutes cruel and inhuman punishment, banned by the eighth amendment.

Wagstaff said depriving a man suffering the nerve-gnawing of a chronic skin disease of his smokes was "psychological torture" that has not been charged against "the communist system's slave labor camps."

Federal Judge George B. Harris ordered Alcatraz Warden Paul J. Madigan to appear Nov. 21 to give his answer to Wagstaff's petition. Wagstaff is serving a 16-year term for armed robbery.

PALATINE BOY KILLED IN HUNTING ACCIDENT

PALATINE, Ill. (AP) — Anthony Geisler, 14, of Route 3, Palatine, was fatally wounded Saturday when his shotgun was accidentally discharged while he was hunting pheasants on his parents' farm. The boy died enroute to a hospital in Elgin.

IKE LEAVES HOSPITAL — President Dwight Eisenhower with wife Mamie, wave goodby to gathering in front of Fitzsimons Hospital as they depart for Washington. The President expressed his gratitude for the messages and prayers of people all over the world. He also said he would be eternally grateful to the medical staff at Fitzsimons Army Hospital.

Truce Supervisor Hopes For Best In Palestine Area

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns talked Saturday with Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser about the latest United Nations' proposals to ease Israeli-Egyptian tension. The U.N. truce supervisor emerged with the report: "I am not less optimistic and I hope for the best."

Informed sources hinted the talks snagged over Egyptian insistence that Israel withdraw its police as well as troops from the El Auja demilitarized zone, the scene of bloody fighting Nov. 3.

Egypt contends the police are regular army troops in disguise, a point the Israelis dispute.

Israel offered Tuesday to support the U.N. proposal for restoring a cease-fire on the Israeli-Egyptian frontier providing what it calls Israel's rights and position in the El Auja area are upheld.

Meanwhile troops of both sides man posts within the area, from which they had withdrawn in September under an agreement with Burns.

Taylor then drove the car 190 miles to a lonely dirt road where he once lived near Dalton, dumped out the partially clothed body and drove to Virginia.

He was arrested Saturday as he tried to hitchhike near Dalton, after coming back from abandoning Miss Hill's car.

Authorities quoted Taylor as saying "there was no reason" for the murder, "except an urge to kill some woman." It was not the first time a thing like that had gone through my mind." But he said he had succeeded in fighting it off until Monday night.

Solicitor Gen. Erwin Mitchell of Whitfield County said Taylor had been convicted of attempting to kill a man in Virginia by turning on gas jets in his house.

Taylor had been widely sought as "man from Georgia" seen by friends of Miss Hill with her in several Birmingham cafes late Monday.

Landslide Sweeps Buildings Into River, Kills Two

NICOLET, Que. (AP) — An earth slide swept part of the Catholic bishop's palace, a seminary, two homes and a garage into the Nicolet River Saturday. Two persons were reported killed and a teaching brother was missing.

Bishop Albertus Martin and his staff were reported to have escaped just before the landslide ripped through the palace and dropped part of it into the water.

The cause of the slide was not known immediately. It was speculated, however, that the presence of heavy road-building machinery on the riverside road may have been a contributing factor.

One man was reported missing. Two young Montana mothers, lost overnight in subzero temperatures, were found alive by searchers on snow blanketed Cabinet Mountain, 20 miles south of Libby, Mont.

Earl Danszen, 45, was reported missing in snow-covered Mountain Top in Wyoming.

The Montana women, lost from a hunting party, were Mrs. William Thomson, 21, and Mrs. Don Thomson, 22, of Libby.

Cut Bank, Mont., was the cold-est spot in the United States Saturday, hitting a low of 22 degrees below zero at 9 a.m. Unionville, near the state capital city of Helena, reported 18 degrees below, while Helena was only 8 degrees warmer.

Snowfalls up to 16 inches were reported.

NEAR BLIZZARD HITS THREE STATE AREA

DENVER (AP) — A near blizzard snowstorm swept over sections of Montana, Wyoming and northern Colorado Saturday.

One man was reported missing. Two young Montana mothers, lost overnight in subzero temperatures, were found alive by searchers on snow blanketed Cabinet Mountain, 20 miles south of Libby, Mont.

BLACK MAGIC IN AFRICA

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP)—Wheeling vultures led a search party through the Masaka swamps of Buganda to the scattered remains of two African girls sacrificed during witchcraft rites, the Uganda government disclosed Saturday.

The speaker was Art Maloney, operator of a small dairy farm near Spring Valley, Minn. He was one of more than 500 farmers and farm organization leaders who testified during the past three weeks before the Senate Agriculture Committee. Scores of other farmers, as well as local business and political leaders, told interviewers of a growing spirit of dissatisfaction

President Will Open Office In Gettysburg

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower got in a little putting on a White House green Saturday for the first time since his Sept. 24 heart attack. And he made plans to open an office next week in downtown Gettysburg, Pa., near his farm.

He went out onto the green on the south lawn of the mansion shortly after aides reported him "feeling fine" on this first full day back at the White House.

The aides said he putted only a couple of times, then sat in a chair in the yard for more than an hour soaking up the warm autumn sun. He had basked in the sun almost daily for the last three weeks or so on the eighth floor terrace of Fitzsimons Army Hospital in Denver.

But so far as is known Saturday was the first time he had a golf club in his hands since Sept. 23, the day before his attack. He played 27 holes in Denver that day.

Eisenhower was out on the White House green with his son, Army Maj. John S. Eisenhower, who also got in a bit of golf practice.

After trying a couple of strokes, the President sat and watched John.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty announced Saturday that the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will drive on Monday to their country home on the edge of Gettysburg, where there will be a quiet observance of the First Lady's 59th birthday.

Eisenhower, who checked out of a Denver hospital Friday after seven weeks of convalescence from a heart attack, plans to spend about six weeks building up his strength at his farm.

But the White House made it clear that at Gettysburg the doctors plan to permit a steady but gradual increase in his governmental activity.

Eisenhower's Gettysburg office will be on the first floor of the post office, in the postmaster's quarters, and he probably will meet his first official visitors Monday.

There will be "many" such visitors, the press secretary added, and most of them will confer with Eisenhower at the post office rather than at his farm home about four miles from the center of town.

Hagerty told newsmen that Eisenhower, who arrived here by plane from Denver late Friday, or three years.

But farmers testified that lower prices, coupled in many cases with cutbacks in individual farm production attributable to crop controls, drought and other factors, have reduced incomes to a level that will not maintain the living standards to which many farmers had become accustomed.

Farmer after farmer expressed resentment that the nation as a whole was experiencing record prosperity but that agriculture was not participating in it.

Many farmers do not believe the Eisenhower administration's present farm programs and policies will bring an improvement without first forcing many smaller and younger farmers out of agriculture through the bankruptcy route.

And that's where politics enters the picture. The hearings showed that Secretary of Agriculture Benson is a highly controversial figure. Many more farmers and state and local Republican leaders spoke critically of him than favorably.

But the hearings indicated that there is strong farmer support for a program which would reduce the size of the farm plant until surpluses are disposed of and the population increases enough to require larger production.

Farmers would be required to take a uniform percentage of their tillable land out of production. The resulting decline in production would be expected eventually to bolster prices and income.

Under this plan rental payments would be made to farmers to compensate them for letting part of their farms stand idle and to supplement income during a period of adjusting the farm plant to present day needs.

This "soil bank" plan is gaining backing from the rival business and farmers union organizations. The party that first grabs up this or a similar plan is likely to have the edge over the other in next year's election.

For instance: The average cost of maintaining an infantry division for one year is about $8 million dollars. This represents pay, food, clothing, replacement of equipment, fuel and administrative expenses.

It does not include the ordinary, day-to-day cost of maintaining four divisions and several regimental and battalion size army outfits nor a dozen wings or squadrons of fighters, light bombers, troop transports and a flock of helicopters, observation and liaison aircraft.

Clifford Hunter Speaks At Greene Fair Banquet

CARROLLTON—Clifford Hunter, the supervisor of the state aid fund for County Fairs was the guest speaker Thursday evening at a banquet sponsored by the board of directors of the Greene County Agricultural Fair and held in the American Legion hall in Eldred, the proceeds to be placed in the fund for the erecting of a new cattle barn at the Fairgrounds.

Hunter, who was secretary of the Fair Association at Taylorville for 27 years and a former member of the state legislature, stated that there are now 98 Fairs in the state participating in the state aid money which is raised through the proceeds from running and harness racing in the state. He listed the Greene county Fair as one of the outstanding Fairs in the state. His talk was followed by the showing of a racing film sponsored by the state racing association.

R. D. Lemons, the president of the local Greene County Agricultural Fair, presided during the program and gave a resume of the activities in the past and the plans for the future which include the erection of a 40 by 180 cattle barn with state rehabilitation money which is to be matched by money raised in the county. He stated that the state rehabilitation fund has now been raised from $2000 to $4000.

Lemons also stated that after the receiving of the state aid fund and the paving of all bills the Fair Association now has a bank balance of $1,500.

Carl Wright, who has been superintendent of speed for a number of years, was presented a gift from the Board by President Lemons. Lemons presented the members of his board of directors before introducing Congressman Sid Simpson, a former president of the Greene County Fair Association, who gave a short talk concerning the progress which had been made through the years by the Fair Association.

A short talk was also made by Joe Fulkerston of Jerseyville who showed a calf at the Greene County Agricultural Fair 76 years ago and remembered the Fair when the livestock was driven to and from the Fair on foot instead of in modern trucks as at the present time.

Over 200 tickets at $5 each were sold for the banquet, which was served by the members of the El-dred American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Ella Shimman, state P.E.O. first vice president, will conduct a chapter inspection at a special meeting to be held Thursday evening at the home of Miss Julia Piereson.

Here's a pretty luncheon salad. Cut away the stem ends from tomatoes and make four or five parallel cuts through each almost to the bottom. Add finely diced cucumber and radish to creamy-taste cottage cheese; pile the cottage-cheese mixture into each cut of the tomatoes. Garnish with salad greens and serve with French dressing.

Some cooks like to add tiny cubes of American cheese to a can of baked beans before heating in the oven. Then they season the combination with Worcestershire sauce and mustard.

Add finely chopped chutney to mayonnaise; serve over hard-cooked egg salad.

Dieting? Make sure you include milk, meat, eggs, fruits and vegetables in your diet every day.

These foods offer such valuable nutrients that it does not pay to slight them. The milk may be skimmed, of course.

The meat was prepared by a committee of ladies comprised of Mrs. Tony Klingberg, G. L. Prather and J. E. Durham. Covered dishes and pies were donated by the other members of the class.

The supper was served to the men as a result of an attendance contest between the two classes which the men won, with the losers entertaining the winners at supper.

Officers for the new year were named as follows: president, Mrs. Hal Patterson; vice president, Mrs. Cline Lawson; secretary, Mrs. Honer Rimby; treasurer, Mrs. Jim Shaw.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Paul Ballard who spoke on the topic, "Prayerful Hands."

Dorcas Class Fete Men's Class

The Dorcas class of the Christian church entertained the men's class Thursday evening in the church dining room.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Ella Scott has as weekend guests in her home: Mrs. Henry Bloumberg, Winnetka; Mrs. Foreman Lebold, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Denman, Kirkwood; and Mrs. Frank Scott, Webster Groves, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fitch visited Wednesday with his sister, Mrs. Nelle Kenney, Springfield, and with his brother, Clarence Fitch, Girard.

It was announced at the October meeting that the organization had reached a new high in membership with a total of 94 persons. The membership is made up of persons interested in the welfare of exceptional children and includes personnel from the Braille and Sightsaving School, The School for Deaf Children, the public schools, and students and faculty members from the special education department of MacMurray College.

The chairman of the evening program will be Dr. Robert H. Alexander of the MacMurray College Psychology Department, with the program being presented by graduate students of the college who will speak to the group concerning "Current Research Involving Exceptional Children." Following the program and the regular business meeting, coffee and refreshments will be served.

The November meeting of the Jacksonville chapter of the International Council for Exceptional Children will be held at 7 o'clock on the evening of November 15 at the Kathryn Hall Smoker on the MacMurray College campus.

The guest speaker will be Mrs. Helen Scott Saulsbury, who since 1947 has served as a volunteer in interdenominational Christian mission work. The speaker served as a volunteer to the Ambala City, India, Philadelphia Presbyterian Mission hospital. While in India she traveled over much of the country. She witnessed the riots and troubles of the country in 1947-48 and was instrumental in securing medical supplies and drugs in combating disease in the refugee camps of the Punjab.

She worked with members of the Indian government in 1951 in implementing the Indo-American Agreement, under which Church World Service, the Friends Service Unit, The Lutherans, Catholic War Relief services, CROP, and CARE were able to ship gifts for relief and rehabilitation to India duty-free with freight paid by the United States and the Indian governments.

She is presently serving on the interdenominational boards of the Emergency Committee for German Protestantism, the American Board of Ludhiana Christian Medical College in India and the Christian Fairhand Life Community at the University of Texas. Her ability as a speaker is unique. Her audiences become a part of the ecumenical mission as she so vividly describes the dynamic experiences of the Church at work overseas.

MRS. DARWIN R. CHANEY

Miss Doris Elaine Eldred of White Hall and Darwin Randolph Chaney of Alton were married November 4 at the First Baptist church in White Hall. They are making their home in Alton.

Doris Eldred Bride Of Darwin R. Chaney

WHITE HALL—Nuptial vows between Miss Doris Elaine Eldred of the White Hall and Darwin Randolph Chaney of Alton were exchanged Friday evening, November four, at seven-thirty o'clock, at the First Baptist church in White Hall. The pastor, Rev. Ben Bohn, received the bands in a double ring service performed at the altar decorated with fall flowers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Eldred. White Hall and the bridegroom is the son of Oscar R. Chaney of Alton.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. Ben Bohn sang "Because" and "Always" accompanied at the organ by Charles Young who also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Mary Etta Jones of Godfrey, was her only attendant. Francis Bernard Mills, brother-in-law of the bridegroom and a resident of Alton, served as best man.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white nylon tulle over satin gown. The bodice was of lace and fashioned with a small collar and long sleeves tapering to points over the hands.

Reception At Church

A reception was held in the church parlor after the ceremony. A three-tiered bride's cake was a feature of the serving table. The cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Assisting at the reception were another sister of the bride, Mrs. Harry Gillespie and a sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Francis Mills and Mrs. Ward Eldred.

When the couple left for a honeymoon in Southern Missouri the bride was wearing a blue dress with matching color accessories. Upon their return they will reside in Alton.

Mrs. Chaney graduated from the Greenfield Community High school with the class of 1949 and for the past five years has been employed at the Illinois Telephone company at White Hall. The bridegroom attended Alton schools with two years spent at Shurtliff College in Alton. He is employed at the Alton Box Board.

Murrayville Club Program Reminiscent

The program Wednesday afternoon, November 9, at the regular meeting of the Murrayville Domestic Science club was most appropriate for Veterans Day on the 11th and the observance of National Education Week. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. L. C. Collins, and opened with the song, "Battle Hymn of the Republic." This was followed with the pledge to the flag and the club collect, led by the hostess.

The vice president, Mrs. Charles Wilson, was in charge of the meeting in the absence of the president. The secretary-treasurer, Mrs. L. C. Collins, gave routine report and that of the collected correspondence. During the session a donation was voted by the club to the Park Ridge School for Girls.

Roll call was answered by 12 members telling what music meant to them. The music chairman, Mrs. M. J. Benscoter gave the afternoon program. She presented two articles, Music and Rhyme and Glad Music. Mrs. Benscoter then played accompaniment for the group singing of World War One favorites, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," "K-K-K-Katy," "Good Morning Mr. Gyp," "Smile a While," "Pack Up Your Troubles" and "There are Smiles that Make Us Happy." The songs were reminiscent of Armistice Day of the first world war whose hold date has been replaced with Veterans Day.

The original feature of the afternoon was presented by Mrs. Henry Simmons who presented excerpts from President Eisenhower's Thanksgiving address of 1953.

The closing portion of the program was given by Mrs. Edward Tendick who stressed the educational theme in two articles, What is Education and Women in the Various Fields of Employment.

During the social hour the hostess served a snack course consisting of chicken sandwiches with perfection salad and completed with Chinese gravy with coffee. The next meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 23 at the home of Mrs. J. L. Solomon. Names were drawn at this meeting for the Christmas exchange to be held at the second meeting in December.

Mrs. W. A. Gardner Feted On Birthday

Mrs. Anna Gardner, wife of Rev. W. A. Gardner, was honored Monday evening, November 7, at the Gardner home at a nylon shower celebrating her birthday.

The evening was spent in games and singing after which Mrs. Gardner opened her lovely gifts. Refreshments were provided and served by the hostesses, Miss Allene Coulants and Mrs. Gladys Wilder. There were 12 guests present from Jacksonville, Litchfield and Lincoln.

MRS. GARY LEON DORSEY

Miss Barbara Jean Meyer and Gary Leon Dorsey of Greenfield were married November six at the Hickory Grove Baptist church in Wrights. They are making their home at Pekin and the bridegroom is employed at nearby Peoria.

Meyer-Dorsey Nuptials At Wrights Church Nov. 6

GREENFIELD.—A Greenfield couple, Miss Barbara Jean Meyer and Gary Leon Dorsey were united in marriage at 3 o'clock last Sunday afternoon, Nov. 6, at the Hickory Grove Baptist church at Wrights. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend Ollie Phillips.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Meyer and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dan Dorsey, all of Greenfield.

The church was decorated with lavender, yellow and white mixed bouquets with palms. White satin bows marked the center pews.

Before the ceremony Mrs. Clarence Cunningham sang "One Alone," and "O Promise," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Lee Witt.

The traditional wedding marches were used.

Miss Joan Meyer was her sister's honor attendant and Miss Garra Rathgeber of Rockbridge was bridesmaid. Dean Dorsey served his brother as best man and Donald Edwards of Athensville was groomsman. Ushers were Bob Pembroke and Jerry Griffith, the latter a cousin of the bridegroom.

Volunteer Help Needed At Our Saviour's Shop

Mrs. Robert E. Kaiser conducted the November board meeting held recently by members of the executive board of Our Saviour's hospital Auxiliary.

Usual problems involving volunteer help and charting for work in the Auxiliary sponsored Coffee and Gift shop at the hospital were discussed. Anyone in the Auxiliary willing to work days in the Coffee Shop is asked to please contact the November chart chairman, Mrs. Carl Hamilton, 2919-X or Mrs. Kaiser, 2436.

Plans were formulated for the Auxiliary's annual gift luncheon to be held Monday, November 28, at the Dunlap Hotel.

Miss Nall Honored At Bridal Party

Miss Rita Jean Nall, whose approaching marriage to Jack Nortrup has been announced, was honored Thursday evening with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Wesley Petefish, near Alexander.

The evening was spent in playing bunco with prizes going to Mrs. Robert Foster, Mrs. Robert Newell and Mrs. Frank Foster.

The color scheme of pink and white was carried throughout. The honoree opened her lovely gifts from decorative wagon, the "Sweetheart Express," which she pulled into the room. Dainty refreshments were served.

Guests present other than those previously mentioned were Mesdames Albert Nall, the honoree's mother, Raymond Allen, Lesley Ankrom, Lloyd Flinn, William Leahy, Clyde Lewis, Richard Petefish, Jesse Petefish, Albert Yancy and Mollie Williamson.

Unable to be present and sending gifts were Mesdames Ward Petefish, Harold Stewart, Grace Duncan and Miss Eldena Duncan.

Four Receive Omega Chapter Ritual Degree

The Omega chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority met Monday, Nov. 7, at the Dunlap hotel. Dining tables were beautifully decorated in the Thanksgiving motif. The table decorating chairmen were Delores Floreth and Ruth Jean Cisne.

A business session was conducted by the president, Beverly Abbott. Announcement was made of an invitation to coffee on Nov. 14 by Walter Ross. Names were drawn for a Christmas exchange to be held at the holiday party for the girls who do not have mystery pals.

Barbara Twyford was in charge of the culture program on Poetry. She selected two poems, "On His Blindness" and "A Ballade Catalogue of Lovely Things," which were read by a trained reader. The group was divided into sides and a discussion quiz was held.

The Ritual of the Jewel degree was conferred upon four members. Receiving the Ritual were Ruth Linebaugh, Mary Sue Durham, Lillian Massey and Betty LaBelle. After presentation of pinks each girl was presented with the sorority flower.

Local Delta Nu's Attending Convention

At a regular meeting of the Delta Nu chapter of Delta Theta Tau Saturday afternoon, Nov. 5, at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maynard, Chapin route two, united in marriage Gayle H. Ross of Ingleside and John M. Maynard of Chicago.

Rev. Walter Gustafson performed the double ring ceremony with little Miss Carolyn Glossop, niece of the bridegroom carrying the rings. She also carried a lovely bouquet of tiny pink roses.

The bride wore a dark blue suit with gray accessories and white orchids.

The couple's attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Glossop, sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The men all wore white carnation boutonnieres and the ladies orchid corsages.

Mr. Maynard is employed in Chicago. The newlyweds are residing in a recently purchased home at 2213 Madison Place in Evanston. The groom is a graduate of the Jacksonvile high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ross and son, Jackie, relatives of the bride, of Fox Lake, attended the wedding.

A buffet supper was served at the Maynard home after the ceremony to members of the families and the wedding party.

The two attendants to the bride wore identical lavender net over taffeta frocks with net jackets worn over the strapless bodices. The skirts were full and ruffled. They wore matching headresses and mitts and carried Colonial bouquets.

The bride's mother wore navy blue with a corsage of white carnations and the bridegroom's mother also chose navy with white carnations.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a strapless line gown of Chantilly lace and tulle with white satin. A lace jacket with long sleeves featured a Peter Pan collar. The bouffant skirt was in tiers of lace ending with a wide tier of tulle ballerina length. Her finger-tip veil of sheer illusion was secured to a scalloped lace and seed pearl headdress. She carried an arrangement of white carnations on a white Bible.

Litchfield Mass Commemorates Wedding Date

High mass celebrated last Sunday morning at the Litchfield Catholic church by Fr. Frank J. Lawler commemorated the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James H. McManus, 1042 S. Clay Ave., Jacksonville.

James H. McManus and Maxine Witt were married Nov. 6, 1930, by Fr. Lawler at the Church of Our Saviour.

They are the parents of four sons, James Edward, Gary Patrick, Steven Leslie and Michael Joseph.

Fifty-five people attended the 59th annual Open Meeting of the Orleans Woman's Country club held Tuesday evening, Nov. 8, at the First Presbyterian church where a delicious dinner was served by the members of the Young Couples class of the church. The invocation was offered by Mrs. Lillian Scott.

The club was organized in 1886 by sixteen women. The club has continued as a strictly rural society during the intervening years. It won the distinction of being the oldest rural club in the United States and in the entire General Federation of Federated Women's clubs convention held a few years back in Chicago.

The tribute was paid the club by Mrs. Theodore S. Chapman of Jerseyville who was then serving as the state president of the Illinois Federation at that time. She is the presiding president of the General Federation now.

A few years before the above tribute was made the club received particular mention at the Atlantic City convention.

Following the dinner hour the president, Mrs. Clyde Trafton, called the meeting to order stating she marveled at power of the club to hold a group together through the years and that only love, sisterhood and good fellowship with faith in God might shape the tie that endures 59 years. The president stated her pride in standing to the place of her mother, Mrs. William Cleary, a long time member of the club.

Mrs. Trafton called on Mrs. Charles Drury to welcome the guests for Mrs. Anna Drury who was unable to attend. Harold Kamm gave the response Mrs. Hilding Matson led in the Lord's Prayer. Response to roll call was, "how many years a member of the club," introducing one guest.

The husbands very cleverly responded to roll call with "what it means to be a clubwoman's husband" and which provided much mirth.

Remarks by the past members, Mrs. Lillian Scott, Mrs. Mary Strawn, Mrs. Laura Hallberg and Miss Violet Davis, were pleasant reminiscences. Mrs. Strawn and Mrs. Hallberg being charter members.

A review of the year's program 1954-55 was read by Mrs. Roy W. Davenport the secretary. The president thanked all committees assisting as well as the dinner committee of the church: domestic committee, Mrs. Harold Kamm, Mrs.

Clifton Davis, Mrs. Ivan Cox; hostesses, Mrs. John Clegg and Mrs. Blanche Koss; table chairmen, Mrs. James Heaton and Mrs. Reuben Bates.

The program committee, Mrs. Leonard Wood, Mrs. Addie Rawlings and Mrs. Elmer Straw presented the following interesting and entertaining program: accordian solos, "Mountain Laurel" and "Tennessee Waltz," Mrs. Addie Rawlings; assembly singing with accordian accompaniment, "Home on the Range" and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia;" vocal numbers, "Arise Oh Lord" and "I'll Walk with God" Miss Donna Jean Blimming with Mrs. Elmer Straw as accompanist and travel pictures, Trip to Alaska by Diane, Loren Moody and son, Kaylyn Moody.

After words of appreciation by the president the meeting adjourned.

45 Young Women Entertained At Week End Party

Fifty-five young women who are seniors in Illinois high schools were entertained by MacMurray College during the week end. Their visit began yesterday and will continue today.

The girls came from a large number of Illinois towns and cities including Lawrenceville, Mt. Carmel, Sheffield, Sandwich, Clinton, Hillsboro, Jerseyville, Harvey, Elgin, Chicago, Elmhurst, Wheaton, and Highland Park. Besides the Illinois girls there are four from Iowa, two from Indiana, five from Wisconsin, and two from Missouri.

The Hostess Club, made up of freshmen students now enrolled at MacMurray College, familiarized the prospective students with the campus and its activities. Highlighting the weekend was the presentation of the variety show "Club 13," and annual extravaganza produced by the student body. As guests of The Hostess Club the visitors were housed in Main and Jane Halls.

Days are designated as follows: Monday, "red and white" members are to wear something red or white; Tuesday, "ickey day" something catchy is to be worn; Wednesday, "well groomed day"; Thursday, "make date day"—any member seen talking to a man or boy will be fined two cents each time; Friday, "coffee day"—faculty members are welcome in the home economics room any time during the school day; Saturday, "help mother day"; and Sunday, "go to church or Sunday school day."

Tells Phone Growth

A good attendance turned out Monday night for the regular meeting of the Waverly Lions club. The session, which was held at the Junction Grill, was preceded by a fried chicken dinner.

Wayne Matthews was added to the roll as a new member at the meeting. Other business included the paying of bills and the distribution of coin containers for the collection for the blind projects.

During the program period Lee Gunter, Waverly exchange manager of the General Telephone Company, gave a talk in which he told of the growth of the telephone companies.

Mr. Gunter began with a few words relative to the telephone's inventor, Alexander Graham Bell, and told of the things that promoted his interest in this field. Following the invention, the story went on into the formation of the Bell Telephone Company, and from there a description of the beginning of Independent telephone companies which sprang up in competition to Bell.

The final portion of his talk dealt with the operation of the company which services Waverly. Following Mr. Gunter's talk, there was a period during which questions were answered relative to the operation of the telephone industry. Nov. 21 will be the next meeting of the Lions Club.

Northminster Church Class Surprises Member

The Mary and Martha class of the Northminster Presbyterian church pleasantly surprised a member, Miss Evelyn Scott, Wednesday evening, November 9, at her home 222 West Beecher avenue.

Mrs. George Coraor is the teacher of the class and the class has the distinction of being the only Sunday school class in the church still taught by its original teacher. The class has supplied several Sabbath school teachers since its organization.

Miss Scott was presented with a gift and a social evening was enjoyed with refreshments being served.

The next meeting of the Patterson-Hillview unit will be held in the home of Mrs. Rex Hallock Wednesday, Dec. 7, and will be an all day meeting, with potluck dinner at noon. The annual election of officers will be held at this meeting and the social hour will feature a Christmas gift exchange.

At Koonz Home

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Koonz and family were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wessel of Springfield and Z. L. Crouse and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller and sons of Currrville, Mo.

CARD PARTY AT MACMURRAY NOV. 19

The MacMurray College International Relations Club will sponsor a card party from 8 to 11 p.m. Saturday Nov. 19, in the social room of Main Hall on the MacMurray campus.

Admission will be 50 cents per person. Tickets will be sold at the door.

The average trumpeter swan weighs 30 pounds, has an eight-foot wingspread and flies close to the ground.

Profits of the evening will go to the International Relations Club conference fund.

Tote Bags Look Like Clutter Bags Necessities Should Be Organized

When the handbag of a career gal comes up for discussion, the question is: is it a handbag or a litterbag? Any business gal (left) worth her typewriter ribbon can dump an appalling mess of stuff out of her handbag. First step is to throw out the old streetcar transfers and what not. Then, co-ordinate the necessities (center) in matching, durable leather containers. Convenient for the carrier of a big handbag (right), is a small clutch bag for easy access to cash, carried inside big one.

In the department of disorganized interiors, the insides of most career gal's tote bags take the prize. There isn't a working woman who doesn't have some useless clutter in her overgrown handbag and, in many cases, there's such a conglomeration of clutter that the necessities are hopelessly hidden.

Here's a list of a few of the things found in the pile formed when several working women dumped the contents of their handbags on a desk:

A picture book; an unset amethyst, a broken earring, 50 bobby pins, an outdated appointment book, an empty perfume bottle, an ancient love letter, a fortune slip from a Chinese cookie, a shoe buttonhook, a rapid transit transfer from another city, a stocking, five buttons, a half piece of chewing gum, a ball of wool and a two-week-old marketing list.

This, plus keys of unknown origin, crumpled cigarette packages, scattered drivers' licenses, loose change, broken combs and empty lipstick cases, constituted the goods these women carted about each day.

The first step in organizing a big handbag is to throw out the obvious useless clutter. The possibly useful items, such as buttons and phone bill receipts, should be filed where they may be needed.

The real everyday necessities that have a logical place in a handbag should be organized. Many women carry big bags because they is important to keep crumbs of tobacco out of the handbag and to keep the cigarettes from crushing. A matching leather-covered lighter eliminates the bunches of matchbooks from the handbag. A key case makes the needed keys easy to find by sense of feel. An eyeglasses case keeps glasses from getting dusty and scratched.

This kind of a purse-within-a-purse makes it possible to get out change for the bus without rummaging in the bottom of the big handbag. It's easy to get out in a hurry.

The further necessities can be housed in matching leather containers. They're durable and can be bought to match, which is a big help to the appearance of the interior of the tote. A cigarette case is practical, but handsome, accessories can be had in a variety of leathers. Most of them are smooth, but some come in lizard and other reptile leathers. Some are hand tooled in Oriental and other exotic patterns to make them dressy. Others have bright gold touches.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie and coffee were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Blake and Mrs. Jones.

Past Noble Grands Meet

The Past Noble Club of Adams Rebekah Lodge met Wednesday night at the I.O.O.F. hall with Mrs. Winnifred McGovern and Mrs. Ray Linker as hostesses. CEREALS END LOWER WITH SLOW TRADING

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO (AP)—Grains were unable this week to push forward with the little rally in which they had indulged in the two previous weeks.

All cereals ended lower although selling pressure was not very heavy at any time. Trading was rather slow, picking up slightly in the last couple of sessions.

Wheat closed 2 1/4 lower to 38 higher, corn 2 1/2-3 1/2 lower, oats 7 1/2 lower to 14 1/2 higher, rye 1 1/4-1 1/2 lower, soybeans 3 1/2 to 2 cents lower and hard 5 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Slow flour sales, small exports and a general lack of interest helped depress the market. Soybeans were upset by a break in cash bean meal to the lowest price in 10 years.

A mildly bullish influence on Wednesday was a statement by agriculture secretary Benson saying he favored selling government farm surpluses to Russia at cut rate prices. The biggest surplus is wheat.

The prospects of Russia taking any American wheat are considered very dim by grain experts. They can point to official Agriculture Department wheat statistics to support their viewpoint.

Thus, in the department's publication, "The Wheat Situation," released Oct. 31, appears this statement: "Preliminary information from the Soviet Union points to a larger wheat harvest this season."

New York Stock Market

By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK (AP)—A sweeping wave of confidence and optimism this week sent the stock market up strongly to a new recovery high.

There was more bullish enthusiasm in Wall Street than at any time since the market was sent sprawling in a giant reaction last September on news of the President's illness.

Measured by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks, the market has retraced nearly 77 per cent of the ground lost in the plunge that started Sept. 26 and hit bottom Oct. 11. This week the average raced ahead for the greatest gain in the past year.

In searching around for reasons for the change of heart, there were—as always—plenty of causes. The significant thing was that brokers and traders and investors and the general public were prepared to believe the good news and ignore all else and to guy stocks as a result.

The five most active issues this week on the American Stock Exchange were Cuban Venezuelan Oil unchanged at 1% at 82,800 shares; Pacific Petroleum up 1 at 13 1/2; Ford Motor Ltd. up 11-16 at 6 7-16; Charter Oil up 5 1/2 at 2 1/2, and Great Sweet Grass Oils up 1-16 at 3 15-16.

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were General Motors up 4 at 50 1/2 on 357,600 shares; Fruehauf Trailer up 1 at 52; Standard Oil (N.J.) up 2 1/2 at 146%; Panhandle Oil up 1% at 12%; and Benguet Consolidated Mining up 1% at 12.

Hopalong Cassady Runs Wild As Buckeyes Win 20-10

Michigan State Rolls To 42-14 Win Over Minnesota In Big Ten

By ROBERT E. VOGES (P)—Michigan State crushed Minnesota of the first quarter, and made it Saturday 42-14—the worst beating 23-7 by the half. The third team was in and scoring merrily away and kept alive the Spartan hopes in a third quarter that produced of sneaking in through the back three Michigan State touchdowns door as the Big Ten Rose Bowl.

Michigan State can repeat its State touchdowns and state also Pasadena trip of 1953 if Ohio State picked up a two-point safety.

will suffice by beating Michigan End Dave Kaiser started the next Saturday in the Western Conference football windup.

The Spartans ran around and passed over the burly Minnesota line with almost ridiculous ease run: quarterbacks Earl Morrall

Blocked kicks and pass interceptions also played their part in the Spartans' scoring parade by picking up a blocked punt and scampering nine yards to the end zone.

Walt Kowalczyk on a three-yard run; Pat Wilson on one-yard

sneaks; Tony Kolodziej on a 13-yard run and Jim Himesley on a 27-

yard pass from third string quarterback Jim Niowski were others scoring.

Minnesota tallies were from a 16-

yard end run by Bill Garner in the first period and a one-yard sneak in the fourth quarter by Don

Swanson. Dick Larson jumped on a loose ball in the Gopher end zone for the safety.

Coleman was timed in 25:20.1.

Welsh Sparks Navy To 47-0 Rout Of Columbia

By TED SMITS NEW YORK (P)—George Welsh, Navy's brilliant quarterback, set an Academy all-time record for passing Saturday as the Midshipmen crushed Columbia's football team 47-0.

Welsh completed 11 of 16 passes against Columbia for a total of 176 yards. This brought his 1955 mark to 1,143 yards, surpassing the total of 1,137 set by Bob Zastrow back in 1950.

Welsh was brilliantly supported by Tom Forrestal, a sophomore who threw just as effectively as the veteran.

Navy gained a total of 368 yards in the air, a single game record for the Academy.

Five of Navy's seven touchdowns came on passes, the most spectacular coming in the third period. With the ball on Navy's 49, Forrestal passed to Rondal Breene on the 15 and he ran the rest of the way.

Other touchdown pass plays were Welsh to Ed Malynn for 10 yards in the first quarter. Forrestal to John Russell for 22 in the second, and Gus Prahalis to George Thomas for 35 in the fourth, and Welsh to Ron Beagle for 22 in the third.

Army Romps To 40-0 Win Over Penn

By JACK HAND PHILADELPHIA (P)—Army upped for Navy by mauling Penn 40-0 Saturday, handing the Quakers their 17th straight defeat over a two-year span with a fine display of ground power. Penn hasn't won a game in 21 starts with only one tie since mid-1953.

With the big Navy game only two weeks off and an open date next Saturday, coach Earl "Red" Blaik shook up his Army backfield. He installed Bob Kyacky as his starting left halfback and shifted Pete Lash to right half.

Pat Uebel drove over from the Penn one at 9:14 of the first period and Ralph Chesnauskas, the converted tackle now plays end, intercepted a pass by Rich Ross and ran 20 yards for a second score in the same quarter.

Mike Ziegler burst across the Penn five in the second period after a 66-yard march in 15 plays and Don Hollister dashed six yards with a lateral from Dick Murland for the fourth touchdown after 40 seconds of the final period.

With the reserves in action, Army added two more touchdowns in the final minutes with Frank Burd going two and Dave Bourland passing to Bob Munger for 45-yard scoring play.

Yankees Shutout Japan All-Stars

TOKYO (P) — Elston Howard walloped a first inning bases-loaded home run into the left field seats today to lead the New York Yankees to a 10-0 win over Japan's Pacific League All-Stars.

A crowd of 20,000, including Crown Prince Akihito, watched the heavy-hitting Yankees notch their second straight shutout.

The American League champions wind up their 16-game Japanese tour Sunday afternoon against an all-star team from Japan's two pro leagues. The Japanese have yet to win a game from the Yanks. One contest ended in a tie.

Mitchell Stars As Illinois Downs Wisconsin 17-14

Illinois-Northwestern Go Saturday Recalls 1951 'Roses' Thriller

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—Illinois will be attempting to deadlock its football series with Northwestern when the two teams meet at Evanston Saturday. Of their 48 games, the Wildcats have won 23, Illinois have won 22, and there have been three ties.

Northwestern took the lead in the series with a 20-7 victory at Champaign last year. The previous season had brought a 39-14 Illinois victory in Dyche Stadium. The Wildcats won 28-26 in 1952.

Wheaton Cops CCI Loop Title; Burnham Stars

WHEATON, Ill. (P)—Brilliant halfback Dave Burnham scored three touchdowns in his closing college game to pace Wheaton to its fifth College Conference of Illinois football title in seven years with a 32-13 triumph Saturday over Millikin.

Wheaton and Millikin shared the league crown last season and collided Saturday with the championship at stake.

Wheaton took the title with a 50-1 league mark against 42-0 for Millikin.

Burnham, an ordained minister, has scored 30 touchdowns in his collegiate career and for four seasons has rushed 3,500 yards.

He scored against Millikin on two runs of 38 and 12 yards and on a 14-yard pass from quarterback Hayes Barclay.

Wheaton pushed over three touchdowns on drives of 92, 84 and 51 yards before Millikin finally counted on a long pass from Larry Kain to Pete Kottardis to trail 20-7 at halftime.

Holmes Named Portland Pilot

PORLAND, Ore. (P)—Tommy Holmes, former Boston (now Milwaukee) Braves manager, was named manager of the Portland Pilots of the Pacific Coast League Saturday.

Arkansas Raps SMU 6-0

DALLAS (P)—The Arkansas Razorbacks paraded 58 yards to a touchdown the first time they had the ball, then fought Southern Methodist's massive men to a standstill for 56 minutes to win a 6-0 Southwest Conference football victory Saturday.

BASEBALL HAS A GRIP ON KIDS

CHICAGO (P)—"I never knew baseball had such a grip on kids," says Johnny Podres, Brooklyn's World Series pitching hero. "I signed autographs from 7 in the morning until midnight at three restaurants. All I want to do now is go home to Wethersbee, N.Y., and rest for the winter. I wish I knew Rip Van Winkle's secret." Podres, incidentally, began pitching at five years old.

Michigan Jars Indiana 30-0; Need Only One Win For Bowl Trip

By JOHN A. BARBOUR

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (P)—Michigan's revived defense overwhelmed Indiana, 30-0, Saturday to force a Big Ten championship and Rose Bowl showdown with Ohio State next week.

Michigan now needs only a season-ending victory against Ohio State next Saturday to net the conference title and a Rose Bowl bid.

It was Michigan's fifth conference victory against one loss and marked a brilliant defensive comeback for the team that last Saturday allowed Illinois more than 400 yards in a 25-6 upset victory.

In the first half alone, Michigan held the Hoosiers to a minus 28 yards rushing and 10 passing, while piling up 162 on the ground and 31 in the air.

Michigan would lose the Rose Bowl bid to its neighborhood conference rival, Michigan State, by losing to Ohio State. The Spartans, with a 5-1 record, then would share the conference title with OSU, which is ineligible for the bowl because it went last Jan. 1.

Michigan was stymied by the stern defense and did not cross the goal line until the final two minutes.

Michigan put together drives of 41 and 41 yards for its four touchdowns with backs Terry Barr, Lou Baldacci and Dave Hill.

• FAN • BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS

Even though the Illinois School for the Deaf Tigers failed in their bid to go through the season undefeated for the first time since 1928, the people of Jacksonville can be proud of the showing of these boys as well as the showing of the other three teams. Although we have no immediate information on the subject, there is a good chance the season just past is one of the most successful in a long time, from the standpoint of games won and lost.

—o—

Coach Jim Spink's Tigers ended with an 8-1 record which is one of the best marks in the state. The Illinois College record of 4-1-1 showed fans the local college can compete with schools of the same class and come out on the better end. Look for an even better showing next year.

That one game that was lost—a 26-0 defeat suffered at the hands of Principia—is something everyone hopes to forget. It was the kind of a game that could have gone the other way very easily.

—o—

After getting off to a bad start, coach Larry Zitkus and his Routt Rockets fought back to finish the year with a 4-3 record. This is excellent when you stop and realize that the Rocket mentor had to take two of his better linemen and move them to the backfield. However, the boys came around in fine fashion.

Starting from their own 42, Pete Bachouras and Bill Tate picked up nine yards. Then Johnny Karras, making his one good gain of the afternoon, ripped off 26 yards to NU's 22. Tate and Bachouras made a first down on the 10, but there Northwestern braced to pile up three Illinois running plays. The last, by Karras, placed the ball on the eight. Rebecca and ballholder Don Engels were summoned.

Dan Sabino's snap from center was perfect but Engels fumbled it momentarily. Rebecca fretted, but Illinois' stalwart line held long enough for Engels to recover and put the ball in place. Rebecca had his moment.

—o—

We must admit at the beginning of the year things looked mighty black out JHS way. Everyone knew coach Bob Kraushaar had an excellent backfield but the line was a horse of a different color. Who would take the places of Woodward, Roegge, Knight, Hudson, Marquard and the others? Maybe this year's line never achieved the heights of last year's forward wall but you've got to give the boys credit for battling all the way. Their work made it possible for the Crimsons to have just as good a record as last year's club—a 6-2-1 mark.

—o—

JHS line coach Al Rosenberger has compiled some interesting statistics on this year's ball club. Offensively Bill Nunn, Larry Scott, Bill Lewis and Skip Dyer compiled rushing averages of greater than five yards per carry. Even though none of the quartet came close to Bob Scott's 1,286 yards rushing in 1953, this year's backfield was better balanced. Nunn carried the ball 82 times and picked up 494 yards for a 6.2 average. Scott carried the ball 94 times, picking up 557 for a 5.8 average. Lewis in 33 plays netted 176 yards for a 5.3 average and Dyer carried 99 times, missing the final two games, for 506 yards and a 5.1 average.

—o—

The leading pass receiver for the Crimsons this past year was Tom Coats. The senior end caught 11 passes for 167 yards and two touchdowns. His quarterback, Bill Lewis, threw 55 passes, completing 30 for 364 yards and six touchdowns. In the scoring department, Nunn led the pack with 11 touchdowns.

Valparaiso scored first in the game with a second period touchdown on Gordon Helms' 20-yard pass to 255-pound end Charles O'Brien. However, with six seconds left in the half, Bradley went into the lead 7-6 on Jamieson's 42-yard pass to Roger Hanson.

Oliver Henkel, promising Yale sophomore quarterback, shoots par golf and expects to make the Eli Lions team next spring.

Three American Bowling Congress champions died during the year—Tony Schwoegler, Harry Gerlock and Phil Bauman.

Stephen A. Mitchell Favors Lowering Age For Eligible Voters

By DORIS SCHMIEDL

Stephen A. Mitchell, former Democratic National Chairman, addressed the public Friday night in Jones Chapel on the Illinois College campus. His lecture, "Politics and Politicians and the Party System," inaugurated the Illinois College Public Affairs Lectures.

In discussing the party system, Mr. Mitchell emphasized that those who do not join a party are dependent on party members. The members of a political party select the party candidates at the primaries. It is here that party members exercise the right of choosing the candidate of their choice. Members of a political party have the right to protest and reject candidates and it is their duty to express these rights and make the party better from within.

Many Working To Make Turkey Dinner Success

Members of the Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Daughters of America have had to call special meetings and encourage their organization workers to operate in high gear to complete plans for the turkey dinner they will serve Sunday evening, Nov. 20 at the K of C hall.

The project by the combined group promises to be an all out endeavor with all members of the two organizations contributing to the efforts. Tickets for the general public may be secured at either Mac's or Lukeman's clothing stores in the business district. There will be a final report from the ticket committee Friday evening, Nov. 18.

The general chairman for the K of C is Harry Cooper and Mrs. Delia McGinnis and Mrs. Emma Langer are co-chairmen from the C. D. of A. Others on the general committee are Barney Lewis, A. J. Spreen, Jr., Harold Walker, Frank Kaufman, Joe Shanahan and C. J. Langer.

Committees are: dining room, Mrs. Frank Carlson and Mrs. Thomas Cosgriff; dinner preparation, Mrs. Kathryn Doyle and Mrs. John Tobin; tickets, Mrs. Esther Ingoglia, chairman with Louise Coop, sub-chairman in the Alexander area, Mary Whalen, Franklin Frances Gutman, Ashland, Mrs. Art Langer, Murrayville and Mrs. Joe Casey at Woodson. Mrs. Fred Hall is in charge of coffee preparation.

Ward chairmen making solicitations in their areas are: Mrs. Joseph Shanahan, Mrs. Frank Carlson, Miss Margaret Clancy, Miss Mary Beth Spaulding, Mrs. Helen Hall, Mrs. Margaret Cook, Miss Dorothy Lukeman, and Mrs. Anna Ring.

There will be other chairmen appointed as the dinner date nears.

Emma Jane Fox Dies Friday Near Carrollton

WHITE HALL — Mrs. Emma Jane Fox, an 84-year-old former White Hall resident, died at 6 p.m. Friday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Price, eight miles east of Carrollton.

Mrs. Fox had been in poor health for several years, and she was confined to bed for three weeks preceding her death. She had lived with the Prices for the past 12 years.

She was born Oct. 16, 1871, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Kinser. She married John A. Fox Dec. 10, 1890; he predeceased her in death March 17, 1937.

Mrs. Fox is survived by one son, Bert Fox of Hersman, Ill.; three daughters, Mrs. Edith Rolline of Hillview and Mrs. Ethel Price and Mrs. Ira Price, both of the Carrollton community; 18 grandchildren, several great-grandchildren and one great-great-granddaughter.

The body was taken to the Davy's Funeral Home in White Hall. Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist Church in White Hall at 2 p.m. Tuesday with the Rev. Albert Monroe officiating. The pastor of the church will assist.

Burial will be in White Hall cemetery.

Gabhart Funeral

ASHLAND — Funeral services for Mrs. Eva Gabhart will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Ashland Christian church, with Rev. Edward Tesh of Lincoln, Ill., officiating. Burial will be made in the Ashland cemetery.

The ushers were Wendell Wessler, John Leishner, Jr., Ross Houston and Alvin Dufelmeyer. Caring for flowers were Esther Trich, Gertrude Gierke, Dorothy Witte, Clara Scott, Grace Schrone and Herman Lovekamp.

Burial was made in the Lutheran cemetery in Arenzville.

FIRE IN JERSEYVILLE

JERSEYVILLE — Extensive damage was done to a machinery shed, tool house and garage at the country residence of Harry Sinclair southwest of Jerseyville about noon Wednesday.

The Jerseyville fire department was called for assistance after the fire was first discovered by Sinclair. The unit from the city fire department arrived and was able to confine the blaze to the three outbuildings and save a part of the machine shed.

Wednesday afternoon the Jerseyville fire department was called to a point four miles north of Jerseyville to extinguish a blaze in a road repair tar machine. The outfit caught fire about 2 o'clock.

Local Merchants Honor 4-H Boys And Girls 16 Year Old Boy Who Killed Father Placed Under $10,000 Bond

Devotion to a 4-H project, plus the enthusiasm, aptitude and fortitude to complete it, was recognized by Jacksonville merchants at the annual 4-H Achievement Day celebration held at the Times theatre Saturday morning.

James A. Walker Dies, Was Local Businessman

James A. (Jimmie) Walker, 72, founder and senior partner of the Walker Hardware store, passed away at Our Saviour's Hospital Saturday evening, following a heart attack while he was conversing with a customer in his place of business.

Mr. Walker had been a hardware man all his life, first starting as a salesman with the Shapleigh Hardware Company some fifty years ago. He entered the retail hardware business in 1924, and during recent years had conducted the business with his wife and son. He was most active in the business until the time of his death.

Mr. Walker had been active in civic circles throughout his entire life here in Jacksonville, having served for many years on the local park board. His concern for youth found him most active in the organization of the present Boy Scout organization in this district, and for his service as a scoutmaster incomplete.

Winchester P.T.A.
Fete Grosses $971

WINCHESTER — Mrs. Robert Lawrence has announced that approximately 700 dollars was grossed last Thursday evening at the annual P.T.A. Carnival held at the Winchester grade school. Approximately 281 dollars was taken in the ham supper served at 6 o'clock, which was an additional feature of the carnival this year.

Other features of the carnival included a style show put on by P.T.A. fathers, Cub Scouts' skits on the Robin Hood theme, a special dance and variety show featuring Winchester and Bluffus students from the Grant Dance Studio in Jacksonville, a movie, a shadow play, a lunch stand, a fish pond and a bazaar and plant stand.

Mrs. Lawrence, president of the Winchester Grade School P.T.A., desires to express her appreciation to all the committees, parents and members of the community who helped to make the P.T.A. carnival a success.

Achievement

Achievement Day Program Attracts 400

The Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce took special pains Saturday morning to show its appreciation of the 4-H program, which aims at learning by doing.

The business men gave a large number of prizes, more than 100, ranging from hog houses to blue jeans and flashlights during the annual 4-H Achievement Day program held at the Times theatre.

Achievement Day for the 4-H boys and girls was held throughout the nation last week.

John Linebaugh of the local Merchants' committee was introduced to the group, which filled the theatre, by Richard Norfleet, president of the Morgan County 4-H Federation.

Officials continued Saturday to investigate the tragedy, which is said to have followed a dispute between the father and son. Mrs. Gilpin was struck by one of the bullets and is under treatment at Passavant hospital.

Medals, Citations

Later on Farm Adviser E. H. Garlich, Home Adviser Hazel Graves and her assistant, Eleanor Wilcox, distributed citations, medals and other awards to the boys and girls who entered and completed 4-H work.

Linebaugh expressed the appreciation of local businessmen, asserting, "we have watched you grow over the years. We feel that your program will lead you, and all of us to better days."

Funeral Services

Golmer Hamm

Funeral services for Golmer Hamm will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Neece Funeral Home in Waverly, with burial being made in New Hope cemetery.

Mrs. Emma Jane Fox

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Jane Fox will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the First Baptist Church at White Hall.

The Rev. Albert Monroe will officiate and the pastor, the Rev. Ben A. Bohm, will assist. Burial will be made in the White Hall cemetery.

LeRoy Gilpin

Funeral services for LeRoy Gilpin will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Gillham Funeral Home, in charge of Rev. William J. Boston.

Weldon Becker was named the No. 1 boy in agriculture. He also won this rank last June in the district Future Farmers of America contest.

Beker, though, was not present to receive his citation, and other medals and awards, as he was attending the annual Western Illinois Angus show and sale held at Mt. Sterling yesterday in search of new blood lines to augment his own Angus herd.

Members of the family will meet friends from 7 to 9 o'clock Sunday evening at the funeral home.

Robert (Pete) Lacey

Funeral services for Robert O. (Pete) Lacey will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Williamson Funeral Home, with Rev. William J. Boston officiating. Burial will be made in Memorial Lawn cemetery.

Plowland & Meadow

This Week... At Dixon Springs

Ideally you should clip pastures after you take the grazing animals off. Under rotation grazing this would call for clipping at least three or four times a year. Rotation grazing and frequent clipping are good practices. Frequent clipping not only controls weeds, but also evens pasture growth and brings new growth on previously ungrazed clumps. If these clumps are not moved, livestock will probably refuse to graze them throughout the summer.

Like many farmers, we feel the press of other work and fail to get all pastures clipped during the summer. It seems a waste of time to mow following frost and after the weeds have gone to seed unless you are plagued with sassafras and persimmon sprouts. Annual mowing still is the most practical way to control woody plants in permanent pasture and to keep them down to mower size.

Nitrate for Grass Pastures

Applying 30 to 40 pounds of actual nitrogen, even as late as November, to each acre of fescue pasture will pay well by saving hay and

TARIFF PUZZLE

For an administration that considers itself wedded to the idea of more liberal foreign trade, this one does some odd things.

First there was a hike in the tariff on Swiss watches, then on foreign-made bicycles.

Now there are unmistakable signs the government is preparing to yield to domestic pressures which demand curbs on America's oil imports.

Arthur S. Flemming, director of defense mobilization, has warned U. S. oil companies and importers that, unless they cut back their imports from the current 19 per cent of domestic output to the 16.6 per cent that prevailed last year, import quotas would be slapped on. As in the case of the Swiss watch tariff move, the excuse is "national security."

But the advocates of quotas, who seem to have won considerable congressional backing, fail to document their argument convincingly. Chiefly, they have failed to show how American security is promoted by a policy that would call for using up our domestic oil reserves faster than is necessary.

Obviously, the more we draw upon foreign sources for vital oil supplies in peacetime, the more of our own stocks we will have left on hand in the event of war. Nor can it be successfully established that America's oil industry is suffering markedly as result of imports.

The industry is selling more oil products than ever before in its history—and at better prices. Furthermore, it is doing more exploring and discovering of oil than ever. One would imagine that if the domestic industry were in trouble from imports, a problem of excess reserves would be developing.

But the fact is that the industry is hunting harder than ever for new reserves, for all the forecasts indicate tremendously greater fuel demands in the years ahead. This hunt calls for heavy outlays of money. This year a record $3 billion will be put out.

The industry would be unlikely to lay out that kind of money if the only effect would be to build a surplus that would depress its market. The market, of course, is not depressed. It is booming.

Until there is a real showing that oil imports are hurting domestic interests seriously in this country, national security would appear to demand that they continue apace.

The imposition of quotas would shatter the last hope that this administration genuinely intends to foster greater foreign trade to strengthen economic self-reliance in the western family of nations.

ON THE WATERFRONT

The whole country has a stake in the cleaning up of the dockworkers' union, the International Longshoremen's Association, in New York City. For this has long represented a strong beachhead of the criminal element in the nation's labor movement.

The New York-New Jersey waterfront commission created by the two state legislatures in 1953 constituted the first major effort to combat the evil.

The law setting up the commission required that all dockworkers and ship company representatives register with the agency to get work. It has the power to deny licenses to criminals. Clearly it has wide control over hiring, previously a monopoly of the union itself.

Up to now the commission has failed to smash the ILA's hold on the rank and file of dockworkers. But a couple of months ago, with the backing of Governors Meyer and Harriman, the commission successfully rode out an ILA strike aimed at its operations.

The ILA has felt the pinch enough to keep up a steady hammering at the commission, accusing it of arbitrary and harsh administration.

With this combat still in progress, Harriman demanded resignation of New York's commission representative, Lt. Gen. George Hays. He said he wanted a "commissioner of my own choosing" and a lawyer rather than a "military man."

Harriman is said to have felt the commission was adopting a "military" approach to waterfront affairs that was actually hindering a cleanup. He desires a softer policy to convince the union rank and file it should throw out its corrupt leadership. Carmine DeSapio, Tammany leader who is friendly with some ILA leaders, is said to support this position.

But Harriman's attitude has met opposition from both commissioners. And now that he has replaced Hays, Governor Meyer has made it plain he does not share Harriman's liking for the soft approach.

Indeed, Meyer has openly criticized Hays' ouster as possibly damaging to the commission's prestige at this critical stage in its fight. He does not want to see anything happen that smacks of appeasement of the ILA's criminal element.

Since Meyer himself is a Democrat, these criticisms cannot be so easily dismissed as Harriman sought to dismiss Republican complaints.

The fact seems to be that Harriman acted in disregard of the effect his move would have on the commission's delicately balanced prestige. But in the end he may not succeed anyway in winning the commission over to a softer approach.

Before Hays resigned formally, he and his New Jersey counterpart named two key staff officers wedded to a sterner approach. Their replacement by others satisfactory to Harriman now appears most unlikely.

Most observers view Harriman's action as untimely if not unwise, and doubt that it has enhanced his own stature as a firm-dealing executive.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—There was a rough awakening this week for those who thought Russia's milder manner in 1955 was due to weakness or that the "Spirit of Geneva" was anything more than nice talk.

When the Russians earlier this year shifted from the longstanding verbal brutalities of Stalin to a friendlier tone, there were some in this country who interpreted this as a sign Moscow needed to relax tensions.

They thought internal problems were forcing the Russians to cut down on the arms race. It would have been more realistic to look upon the change in the Russian manner as simply a shift in tactics—as many did.

The iron stand taken by Russia this week at the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva was not that of a weak country, anxious to bargain or make concessions, but that of a strong and self-confident country.

The Russians yielded nothing to the West, and Russia has been frozen for years. If anyone yields now, there is nothing to indicate it will be the Russians. They're doing all right, it seems.

They can afford to stand stiff to see if the West caves in a bit.

The Russians have the West worried with the inroads they've been making in the Middle East. The West, which seemed sound asleep there, may have to make big and costly efforts to overcome Russian initiative in that area.

Or, the West may have to make concessions elsewhere, perhaps in Europe to make the Russians back up a bit, if they will. As for Germany, right now it's a stand-off between Russia and the West.

The Western powers are, and have been, anxious to get Germany united and tied into the Western alliances. The Russians want the Germans, if they ever are permitted to unite, tied in with Russians.

At the moment the West has West Germany on its side, the Russians have East Germany. From their viewpoint, there's no practical reason for permitting German reunification now. In fact, they may gain by waiting.

The best friend the West has in West Germany is Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. He's old and sick and may die or have to leave office soon. Not even all of Adenauer's West Germans want military alliance with the West.

The Russians can afford to stand stiff, yielding nothing on Germany until Adenauer leaves the scene and his successors take over. In their desire for German unity, they may be willing to sever their Western ties and deal directly with Moscow.

The Russians paved the way for their doing just that when they recently established diplomatic relations with the West German government for the first time since the war.

The failure of the Geneva conference to get agreement between the West and Russia on anything of importance will be described as the end of the "Geneva spirit."

The correct question at this point is: What Geneva spirit? At Geneva last summer President Eisenhower and Russian Premier Bulganin got along pleasantly. They parted pleasantly. But they accomplished nothing definite.

They were supposed—or so a lot of people seemed to think—to have paved the way for agreements. But the Western and Russian positions had been so far apart for so long there could be no agreement unless one side or the other made major concessions.

Neither side—except for Eisenhower's proposal on aerial inspection—has offered anything that could be considered on a concession since then. And the Russians say now they don't look on Eisenhower's idea as a concession.

What's ahead? Perhaps the best the two sides will be able to do, in the foreseeable future, is avoid war unless perhaps the West is willing to yield a bit. There is no sign the Russians have intention of yielding on any major point.

Double Trouble

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

The Bible at the Top

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

I have just come across an interesting incident in connection with the Bible.

It is in a book, "Jungle Giants," which is the story of the travels through Africa of a young anthropologist from Boston, Newell Bent, Jr. Among many adventures is the account of his climb to the top of Mt. Kilimanjaro, Africa's highest mountain. At its very top, 19,730 feet above sea level, he and a companion found a tin box. Supplied by the Mountaineering Club, it contained the names of the few who, up to that time (about 1935), had climbed to the very top.

And also in the box was a Bible, and this is its somewhat tragic story. Some years earlier Mr. Roome, the traveling director of the British Bible Society, had come to Tanganyika and attempted to climb the mountain. He fainted twice on the way, and porters brought him to Leopard Point, where he left the Bible, which he had brought with him.

Roome died after returning to England, but in his will he asked Dr. Reusch, a missionary and authority on Kilimanjaro, to place the Bible at the summit. He requested that this be written in it: "May the jewel of the world's literature rest on the topmost point of the British Empire."

It is an interesting story, but to me it is also a symbol of the highest place that the Bible should have in every land and in every life.

It is fortunate that the Bible at the top is also in the lowlands, accessible to all, but it may still have the highest place in the mountain of the human soul. Roome gave his Kilimanjaro Bible a place of distinction.

Each of us, too, can give it a place of distinction in the highest point of reverence, faith and obedience to its teachings.

There is something mountain-like about the teaching of Jesus. He said that He came to bring life, and to bring it more abundantly (John 10:10). The Christian life is a life of ascent, of climbing and St. Paul has portrayed the summit of the mountain: "Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ."

But there is the parallel with the climbing of physical mountain ends. The successful climber must quickly descend to lower areas where breathing is easier. But the spiritual peak attained is a permanent possession.

Whenever I mention a book, readers are sure to ask where it can be obtained. So far as I know, "Jungle Giants" is out of print. The intrepid young Bostonian later lost his life mountain climbing in South America, and the book was published posthumously by the Plimpton Press, Norwood, Mass.

Roome died after returning to England, but in his will he asked Dr. Reusch, a missionary and authority on Kilimanjaro, to place the Bible at the summit. He requested that this be written in it: "May the jewel of the world's literature rest on the topmost point of the British Empire."

It is an interesting story, but to me it is also a symbol of the high-

Manners Make Friends

SO THEY SAY

Both sides (East-West) are drawing back from a war which would end in neither victory nor defeat, but in destruction of the world.

—Historian Arnold J. Toynbee.

There is no comfort in assuming that qualitatively if not numerically we (U.S.) can assume continued superiority. The Russians have a long tradition of excellent work in the basic sciences.

—Rep. Melvin Price (D-Ill).

I think history will probably say that in these 10 years (of U.N. existence) mankind has stood closer to the brink of annihilation—and also moved further in the direction of peace—than in any decade in civilization's story.

—Adlai Stevenson.

What the world needs today is a general agreement for disarmament down to the point of the absolute minimum required for the preservation of law and order.

—Clement Attlee, British Labor Party leader.

The Constitution (of the United States) exists for the individual as well as the nation.

—Chief Justice Earl Warren says U.S. citizens' ancient liberties must be safeguarded.

One of the greatest triumphs in the Soviet "war of smiles" may be that it has reassured Americans that all is well.

—Adlai Stevenson.

I have a great admiration for (Ohio's) Governor (Frank) Lausche. I think he is a middle-of-the-road Democrat and the others are pretty far over to the left.

—Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) thinks Lausche would make "a strong dark horse candidate" for the Democratic presidential nomination.

I was fired and that's that. I don't go in for this publicity racket. There's a story behind all this but it isn't going to come from me. I'm just an executive and producer of shows.

Teamsters' Opulent Palace Sign of Labor's Prosperity

BY PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Dedication of the new, five-million-dollar white marble palace headquarters for President Dave Beck and his International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America must be noted as one of the really socially significant signs of the times.

It is a fair cry from what would have been observed in the good old days. Then a new "Teamsters' Hall" would be opened over a saloon in a section on the wrong side of the tracks known affectionately as "Hell's Half Acre."

At the new Teamsters' headquarters, all, is all modern and unmortgaged—probably the only unmortgaged building in town.

During the last few days, this new seat of power has been open for inspection by a bug-eyed public. But were the guides husky, tiring warehousemen in shirtsleeves pointing out, "Dis way to de lib'ary?" Not on your life.

They were nonunion college boy guides, that's what they were, hired for the occasion to direct grammatically, the mighty and the masses on their way to the penthouse, and please don't step through the picture windows.

NOW THIS MARKS the dawning of the new in the Triumph of Labor, with capital letters, please. When the Toilers can hire young intellectuals to do their menial chores, and face a strike and picket line of their own office help, Great Day has arrived. The President's forthcoming White House Conference on Education had better mark it well.

The Teamsters' heaven is, of course only one of a number of new landmarks the rubberneck bus spotters now point out to tourists.

Machinists, Electrical Workers, Steelworkers and others are putting up new office buildings all over downtown.

Tax Money Well Spent For Nation's Schools

Why are our schools a good investment in America? Yes, that's a question that's been troubling the taxpayer for years.

Here he goes and spends hundreds of dollars on new schools, new additions to schools, money to pay the teachers and many other things. And what does he get out of it?

Well, I'll tell you what he'll receive.

Schools Help Us Become Better U.S. Citizens

Schools are an investment in better living. They help us to live better lives and to be better Americans.

When we finish with school, we will be able to go out and earn our living. By then we'll be much smarter and we'll know much more about living.

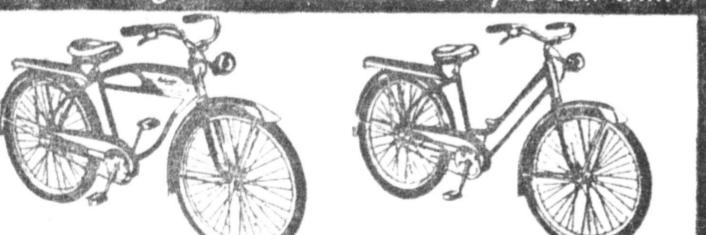

At school we learn how to work with others. We learn about different countries.

We learn to do our share. Schools help us enter into things and to help others to enter in, too.

Vicki Meado Celebrates 1st Birthday

Vicki Sue Meado celebrated her first birthday October 31 at her home, Two Meadow Lane.

The party was given by her mother, Mrs. Jess Meado, assisted by her grandmother, Mrs. Claude Murray.

The house was attractively decorated in orange and black to combine the birthday-Halloween mood.

Prizes were awarded to Dale Conner, Bea Stafford, David Vieira, Lou Ann Stafford and Mrs. Stella Hagan.

Wears Corsage

Vicki received many lovely gifts, including a small red rosebud corsage given her by her father to be worn on her party dress.

At the close of the party the guests were served ice cream and cake.

Those present included Mrs. Melvin Pennell and son, Steve. Mrs. Wilbur Vieira and son, David Dale Lee Wooldridge. Mrs. Eddie Stafford and daughters, Bea and Lou Ann. Mrs. Fred Conner and son, Dale.

Mrs. Bob Faulkenburg and son Mike. Mrs. Everett Birdsell and daughter, Judy. Mrs. Roy Saddler and son, Bobby. Mrs. Lester Meado and daughter, Cathy. Mrs. Stella Hagan. Mrs. Claude Murray and the hostess.

Those sending gifts were Greg Pennell, Mrs. Viola Meado, Matthew McNamara, Mrs. William Ritchie, Miss Josephine Murray, Ted Lonergan and Claude Murray.

Children, Parents, Teachers, All Do Part Of Work

We put our time and work into school and hope to learn something. Our parents put money into schools by buying us paper, pencils, books, and the clothing that we need.

They want us to get a good education out of schools. Some of the money our parents put into schools is used to pay the teachers salary as well as to buy materials for us to work with in learning about certain subjects.

Teachers also work very, very hard to teach us and help us to learn something in school. It is our duty to do what we are told to do. It takes a lot of cooperation to run a school, to run it well, and to keep everything going smoothly.

The above reasons are why I think that schools are a good investment in America.

Important Things Learned In School

I think schools are important because through the education which we get in school, we know more about other people.

We know the proper ways in which to live. We know more about life itself than if we didn't have schools.

Modern schools have subjects which give us, besides knowledge, enjoyment. The things we learn we are using every day and they help us.

The present day teaching methods are very clever and we gain from that. For instance, in our grade school geography and history are combined to make a more interesting lesson.

We call this social studies.

Any way you figure it, we profit in many ways by a good school.

LEARN HONESTY

One of the most important things in our lives is an education. It will help us to enjoy life more because we learn to be honest, and to know to read.

Being honest helps us to make friends and being able to read helps us to pass spare time well.

Birthday Time!

BIG DAYS IN NOVEMBER

By Sue Schaeffer Corey

You boys and girls with November Birthday-time dates share this month with the 'birthdays' of many interesting events:

"I'll tell you about these in a minute, but first let's see who is in our Birthday Parade today—

Ruth Helen Werries, Chapin, November 4, age 5.

Harold Dean Leitz, 853 Doolin Ave., November 5, age 4.

Mary Ellen Headen, RR2, Jacksonville, November 8, age 2.

Raymond Injerd, RR2, Jacksonville, November 1, age 6.

Happy Birthday to every one of you! If your birthday is in November better hurry if you want to be in the Birthday parade. It's not too early for you December birthdays to start lining up by sending your names in too!

Did You Know?

November fourth is a legal holiday in Oklahoma. There they observe the birthday of the late Will Rogers—that wonderful comedian.

And now we come to Sadie Hawkins Day! Officially it is November ninth. Al Capps created this ladies' day in his comic strip "Lil Abner," in 1934.

We have all read of the wild race of the spinsters to catch the reluctant bachelors. In our high schools the students deck themselves in finery patterned after Dogpatch styles.

It is Treat Day for the gals and generally ends with a dance and costume contest.

Old French Festival

In all probability the idea came from an old French Festival, Saint Catherine's Day. Races of ladies against men, dances and jokes, made the day a gay one as long ago as the Fifteenth century.

Robin Hood, the good hearted and reckless leader of the green clad outlaws, met his end in a convent in November, 1247. Old and sick, he had gone there for nursing.

The Prior was Robin Hood's sworn enemy and as he lay there helpless, she opened one of his veins, and he bled to death.

The story goes that with a last effort Robin Hood lifted his horn to his lips, and blew a final note to summon his faithful men.

Education Helps Us Get Jobs As Grownups

I think school is important to children because it helps them learn how to get jobs when they get older. It also helps them to get along with other children.

Parents and teachers play a very important part in children's lives. If we did not have teachers who have gone to school and learned to teach we would know a little, but not enough to get a good education.

Bright Future

Many people do have an education, but many do not. Our teachers are trying to teach children to read, spell, write and do arithmetic so that when they grow up they will be good storekeepers, actors, homemakers, scientists.

When we grow up, we should be better educated than the people in the United States today.

This world today is more exciting than it was long ago. We are very lucky children to have such good, comfortable schools and so many lovely books.

I LIKE SCHOOL

To me a school is important because it gives a person a good education.

A school teaches things that it would be hard to find out for yourself. In school we have lots of fun and we work, too. I like school.

Education in our school helps us to live better with our neighbors of every race, color, and creed. It teaches us the working of our government and country.

We learn that we have more freedom of speech, press, and religion than any other country in the world.

I think our schools are a great investment in better living.

OUR SCHOOLS HELP US UNDERSTAND PEOPLE DIFFERENT FROM US

School is the place where we receive our education to live a better life, to do work in the skills we have chosen, and to receive the highest pay of any workers in the world.

Education in our school helps us to live better with our neighbors of every race, color, and creed.

It teaches us the working of our government and country.

WAY TO HAPPINESS

Our schools are important because an educated person is a happy person.

He can read the newspaper, a magazine, and all kinds of books.

He can also watch television and listen to the radio with understanding.

An uneducated boy or girl is more likely to become a juvenile delinquent.

An uneducated person has a harder time to get a job and have a good home.

If our country had no education it would be a place for communism to start.

SPELLING IMPORTANT TOO

I think school is very important when it comes to reading because you always have to read.

You have to read your name and your books. You are always needing to read.

Spelling is important, too. It helps you to write and to read better.

WE ARE LUCKY

I think that schools are important because they teach us so many things we need to know.

We learn things that we will use when we are grown up and start to work.

HOUSES ARE BETTER

The houses of today have greatly changed from the log cabins of yesterday when there was no heat of light except what the fireplaces provided.

If everybody had a good education we would have good law makers, many industries, and a modern refined way of living.

It's true that George Washington Carver didn't have much of an education. Since we can get a better education, we should do even better now.

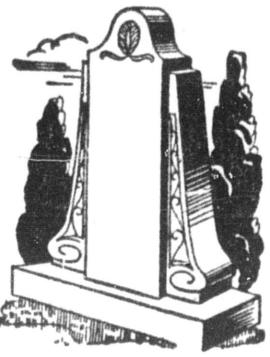

Doctor Salk used his education to perfect polio vaccine.

You notice people live a lot longer now, partly because health and safety are taught in schools

Scientists Prepare For Greatest Quest For Knowledge—Operation Deepfreeze

EDITOR'S NOTE: Science is preparing for the greatest single coordinated quest for knowledge in history—the international geophysical year. To give an idea of what's being done to get ready for just such a phase of it—the huge expedition will have six bases on the Antarctic continent.

By BEM PRICE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON (P)—Three sturdy, gray ice breakers blinked greetings to each other off Norfolk, Va., a few days ago, and set a southward course for the bottom of the world.

All over the globe, scientists of 40 nations noted their departure from three U.S. ports—Boston, Norfolk, Va., and Davisville, R.I.—with quiet satisfaction.

After a solid year of planning, phase two of preparations for the 1957-'58 international geophysical "year" (IGY) — really two years — was moving out of the paper work stage. Phase one was the exploratory voyage of the USS Atka to the Antarctic last year. These two years, Jan. 1, 1957, to Dec. 31, 1958, will witness mankind's greatest single coordinated quest for knowledge about the world in which we live.

In all 5,000 scientists from pole to pole and points in between will pool talents, knowledge and equipment to bend back the barriers of ignorance.

They want to explore more fully the atmospheric blanket which wraps the world; to search the face of the sun for the whys and wherefores of the sudden bursts of electrical discharges which block out radio communications and affect the weather.

The plan is to fire a man-made satellite into space to orbit around the globe 200 to 600 miles up as an out-of-this-world laboratory. It will be man's first step toward actual inter-stellar travel.

The scientists will seek answers to the size and shape of the world itself and how weather is generated and where. They will sound the oceans, seek the birthplace of earthquakes and try to determine whether the water level of the oceans is rising or falling and whether the world is growing warmer.

Before the two years are out men will have built and lived in a station atop the South Pole. In fact, the whole Antarctic region will be populated as never before. This great, white, germless land of the penguin and whale will become a sort of little United Nations.

Hugh Odishaw, executive secretary of the National Academy of Sciences, said of this vast search for knowledge, "It is inconceivable that some startling discovery will not be made."

While the IGY is man's greatest concerted scientific effort it is not the first. International cooperation began in 1882 with what was known as the first international polar year. This was followed by a second polar year in 1932-33. Again many nations participated.

The huge cost of the various expeditions and part of the scientific costs are being met in large measure by the governments of the nations which have joined the effort. However, millions of dollars in private funds are being expended also. Planning began in 1951.

National committees were set up in the 40 nations, including the United States, the United Kingdom, France, Russia, Australia, New Zealand, Japan and Norway. The most dramatic of the quests, outside of establishing the satellite, is the South Pole expedition.

Those three ice breakers, the task force planning staff: Capt. Richard B. Black, Commanders physical year. To give an idea of what's being done to get ready for just such a phase of it—the huge expedition will have six bases on the antarctic continent.

Edisto, the Glacier and the East Wind.

For the 120 men out of the 2,200 man task force who will stay over the winter as base caretakers, it will be a harsh and weird world—a land of perilous "white-outs" and almost unbelievable cold.

The cold becomes so intense—100 degrees below freezing—that even in a dead calm a man who walks rapidly at 100 below can generate enough breeze to crack the bones in his face and nose.

It is anticipated that a construction party will land about 200 miles from the South Pole and then walk in. Its equipment will be parachuted.

Sled trains pulled by 195-horsepower, 71,000-pound tractors will struggle 60 land miles over the ice to establish a weather station and scientific observatory at the junction of Marie Byrd Land and the Ellsworth Highland.

All of the planning and activity is to support the 100 American scientists who will come in next year.

Just to get an idea of the effort I talked to five officers on the

CARS ARE MY LINE
by: E. W. Brown

One thing that makes us especially proud is the number of people who buy their first used car from us, let us service it, and then as they move up, come back to buy newer cars from us.

Servicing by good mechanics is the most important single point in preserving the value of a car. But there is so much an owner can do himself to get more mileage and more dollars out of his car.

Take the simple little matter of keeping tires properly inflated.

Tires that are overinflated wear out quickly in the middle of the tread. Underinflation is just as bad. It brings overheating which causes the layers of fabric inside the tire to separate.

Wandering and weaving on the road can be caused by underinflation and a pull to one side can result from unequal inflation on the front tires or from not having matched treads. Underinflated tires can cause a shimmy, too.

All this worry can be saved by nothing more complicated than checking your tire pressure. When you've been running around town, pressure should be no more than three pounds above the recommended cool pressure; on the open highway five pounds above is all right.

These are the important little things you'll learn by talking to the people on our lot and in our service department. When something really goes wrong, those mechanics have the machinery and the know-how to fix it. But like any good doctor, when nothing is really wrong, they'll tell you.

FIFTH GRADE PUPILS STUDY SPANISH

It wasn't many years ago that Spanish classes were found only in high schools or colleges in this country. Here are Jacksonville children, the fifth grade Spanish class at Franklin elementary school, picking up a strange language with the aid of Mrs. Mabel Watt, teacher, and Mrs. Ralph Robbins, special Spanish teacher. Spanish is taught in fifth grades at Franklin school and South Jacksonville school. These children began their study of the language in the fourth grade.

Women's Club Of Meredosia Meets Nov. 7

MEREDOSIA — The Women's Club met in the high school study hall Nov. 7, with twenty-seven members present. The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Mrs. John Nortrup, children's clinic chairman, reported that Mrs. Chel Young and Mrs. L. L. Edlen had assisted the well child conference Oct. 26; Mrs. Lee Tubbs and Mrs. John Stanfield were to help at the Nov. 9 conference, and Mrs. Leonard Lierh and Mrs. Stanfield were to help at the Nov. 23 meeting.

Members voted to send $5.00 to the Park Ridge Home for Christmas. There will be discussion at future meetings on a poster contest for seventh and eighth grade students and about a scholarship to the Egyptian Music Camp. Mrs. Howard Edlen, the president, announced that the Women's Club float had won the first prize among non-school floats in the high school homecoming parade and thanked the committee chairmen. Mrs. F. F. Pankey and Mrs. John Fisher, for their work. Mrs. Edlen also thanked the members for their gifts to the fish pond at the Halloween Carnival. The fish pond netted $16.25.

November birthdays and anniversaries were announced. Members voted to have a gift exchange at the December meeting.

Mrs. Harry Pirtle led singing of "Prayer of Thanksgiving" and "America, the Beautiful." Mrs. H. A. Naylor played the piano accompaniment. A Jackson and Perkins motion picture about roses was shown. Mrs. Chel Young gave a book review on "Forty-Odd" by Mary Bard.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lee Tubbs, Mrs. A. H. Unland, Mrs. Carl Yeakel and Mrs. Chel Young.

Painting Lesson
Tuesday afternoon a lesson on figure painting was given by Mrs. Alleyne Owens of Bushnell in the Lutheran parish hall. Mrs. Owens

New Kroger Super Market To Open In Jacksonville Tuesday

Big Modern Store Ready For Business

The new Kroger Super Market with its spacious parking lot on West College avenue will open for business on Tuesday, November 15 at 1 p.m., according to announcement Saturday by R. A. Hughes, branch manager for this area.

Erwin Fischer who has been with the Kroger stores in this city for several years will be the manager.

Store hours will be from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

The new building, one of the most modern in Central Illinois, was erected by the Hugh Gibson Corporation of Jacksonville and is of concrete and steel construction.

The new edifice has a floor space of 10,400 square feet, the building being 80 by 130 feet. It is completely air conditioned.

Display racks and equipment in the new store are of the latest design and the entire store is illuminated by modern fluorescent and indirect lighting. The lighting system is so arranged that customers will have little trouble making their selections from the display racks.

All departments of the store are connected with an intercommunicating telephone system.

Magic Carpet Doors

The entrance is at the southeast corner of the building near College avenue. Magic carpet doors are at the entrance and exit.

On entering the store customers will find two long lines of Kiddie Type Bascars.

After making their purchases customers will be served at five automatic check out stations.

Mr. Flascher will be the manager and William Walker, assistant manager.

The produce department will be in charge of Verlin Campbell, with Everett Tankersley head of the meat department. Mrs. Daisy Northrup will have charge of the dairy department while the stock room area will be under the supervision of Eugene Bergschneider and Donald Arthur.

The unloading dock of the new supermarket is located on the north side of the building clear of the parking lot.

Overhead Track For Meat

When the large meat trucks unload their cargoes at the store, quarters of beef will be attached by hooks to an overhead track and pushed directly into the large refrigerators. The meat then moves into the butcher shop on the same track where it will be processed, placed on a conveyor to the wrapping and weighing station. A conveyor then carries the wrapped meats into the rear of the store where the packages will be placed in refrigerated cases ready for the customers.

Boxes of groceries and other articles of merchandise will be unloaded from trucks on to conveyors which move into the stock room where employees place the various items together so that they will be easily accessible to the stock men who place them on carts and move them into the store to be placed on display.

On the second floor of the building are rest rooms with individual lockers for employees.

Much of the machinery for operating refrigeration and air conditioning units are also located on the second floor with automatic signals in case the mechanism gets out of order.

Space For 95 Cars

The parking to the east and north of the building has spaces for about 95 automobiles and is so arranged that there is ample space between automobiles so that customers can easily place their purchases inside their cars. There are three entrances to the parking lot, two from Col-

George H. Rahn Observes 85th Birthday In Cass

VIRGINIA—Saturday, Nov. 5, George H. Rahn quietly observed his 85th birthday anniversary at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jesse White, with whom he makes his home. Throughout the day, relatives and friends called and he received gifts, flowers and birthday greetings. His sister, Mrs. Troy Williams of Arenzville, spent the day as his guest.

Mr. Rahn has spent most of his life in this community and was a rural mail carrier in the early days of this service. He has another daughter, Mrs. E. J. Backes of Sterling, Colo.

Church Activities

The Rev. E. M. McGehee, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, attended the National Town and Country Church Conference in Springfield, Mo., last week.

The Rev. McGehee attended as an official delegate of the Presbytery of Springfield, Ill. Over five hundred delegates from all parts of the United States were present at the conference.

Sunday afternoon, Nov. 13, at 5 o'clock, young people of high school age will meet in the church. Mrs. Otto Dour will continue the workshop on "How To Study the Bible." Elizabeth Petefish and Freda Newberry will have charge of the social hour.

The date of the annual bazaar and supper has been set for Nov. 17.

A group of ladies continues to meet on Mondays in the church for sewing and quilting.

At the local Methodist church Sunday morning, Nov. 13, the pastor, the Rev. Floyd Brewer, will use as the theme of his sermon, "Christian Discipline of Self." The topic will be discussed in the light of Pauline theology.

The Junior Missionary meeting will be held at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Jessie White and Mrs. Shaw Terwilliger are counselors.

The Woman's Society for Christian Service changed the usual date of its meeting on account of other activities and it will be held at the church Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 15, at 2 o'clock. There will be an executive committee meeting earlier, at 1:30 p.m.

Methodist men will gather Wednesday night, Nov. 16, for the regular monthly dinner, at 6:45 o'clock. The program will be in charge of H. M. Knight. John Schaeffer is president and George McDonald is secretary.

Installation Nov. 16

The Adah Robinson Chapter of Eastern Star will hold its installation service at 8 o'clock Nov. 16 at the Masonic Hall. Each member can bring a guest. There will be practice for all Star officers Nov. 14 at 7:30 o'clock at the Masonic Hall.

Personals

Miss Nelle Irvine was a Springfield shopper Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jacobs of Beardstown attended the annual bazaar and chicken dinner at the Methodist church in this city, Tuesday.

Waverly Schools To Mark Education Week Nov. 13-19

WAVERLY—The National Education Association is the sponsor of American Education Week, Nov. 13-19. Waverly schools will observe American Education week by extending an invitation to all parents to visit school. Thursday evening, Nov. 17, the P.T.A. is sponsoring open house between 7:30 and 8:30. P.T.A. will convene at 8:30 in the school cafeteria for a general session.

During the hours of open house, the teachers will be in their respective rooms, so the parents will have an opportunity to meet them.

Date Advanced

The Literature and Music Department of the Woman's Club will hold its November meeting a week early on account of Thanksgiving.

The meeting will be held next Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 16, at 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Winifred Strawn.

The roll call response will be "A Trip I Would Like to Take." The program will be a travelogue by Miss Edith Wempie.

Announce Courses

The advisory council in its last session discussed the types of courses that members believed would most interest farmers in the Waverly community.

The three courses being offered are: advanced farm welding, for those who have had training in high school or one adult course; beginning farm welding, for those with no previous instruction; and farm record keeping for ladies, to enable wives to assist or manage farm records for their husbands.

The course will begin in January. For more information and preliminary enrollment contact Ralph Twenham, agriculture instructor; Paul Handy, Byron Haynes, Henry Holloway, Clarence Mies, Al Rechart, Harold Summers, Lawrence Turner or Richard E. Whalen.

Have you overlooked an important item that affects your family daily? The growing electrical power needs!

Adequate wiring calls for the service entrance to have three wires large enough to provide at least 100 ampere capacity, to serve all your electrical needs today and tomorrow, branch circuits having large enough wires to carry electricity at full power to all lights and appliances, enough convenience outlets, permanent lights and switches.

Consult your electrical contractor for recommendations on how to modernize your home for today's electrical living.

Holiday Fashions Are Many-Splendored All That Glitters Is Truly Gold

The Far Eastern influence shows clearly in these clothes of great elegance for holiday parties. Slim two-piece dress (left) by William Fox is in gold textured fabric. There's the new, wider feeling at the shoulders and mink trim for the sleeves. Lavish brocade coat (center) is woven in Oriental motif of silver against blue. This is by Matlin. Sophisticated satin evening gown (right) has floral pattern of silver threads. Wrap-around skirt has large flat bow at hipline. Simple coat has wide, three-quarter length sleeves in Japanese fashion. Coat repeats the silvery charm of the dress. This is by Emma Domb. Gold or silver motion is interwoven in the fabrics shown here for a look of luxury and great richness.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Holiday fashions take on a golden glow this year. Dresses for parties, large and small, reflect both the Oriental theme and the luxury look stemming from luxurious fabrics and rich fur trim.

The roll call response will be "A Trip I Would Like to Take." The program will be a travelogue by Miss Edith Wempie.

Metallic fabrics bear out the dresses are from 10 inches from the floor to ankle length. Some have the hem midcalf length in front and floor length in back. The irregular hemline floats and swirls in chiffon dresses usually worn over wide petticoats.

Touches of mink in collars and cuffs add to the luxury look in both evening dresses and theater suits. These are used in junior fashions, too. Black velvet or corduroy with white mink trim produces a theater suit of true elegance. Often the jacket covers a slim sheath dress than can go to parties on its own.

BLUFFS

BLUFFS—Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Masterson moved into their newly purchased home this past weekend. They have purchased the former Mr. and Mrs. Paul Welch home, the Welch family moved about a month ago into their new home. The Mastersons have been living in the Klinefelter property.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Davis have sold their home to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Christison and expect to move to Beardstown in the near future so as to be closer to his employment.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Albright have returned home from a three week visit with their grandchildren in Jacksonville. The children's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Morris, have been enjoying a vacation with her sister and brother in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bartholomew were Friday night guests of their sister, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Harris in Decatur. All attended the football game in Urbana Saturday and enjoyed the Dads Day festivities. Henry Likes was also a guest for Dads Day at the university. Dick Bartholomew and Raymond Likes are both freshmen.

Reports were made by Mrs. Edith Funk, treasurer, concerning disbursements. During the social hour the society celebrated the 15th anniversary of the WSCS organized in 1940 with Mrs. Mettie Coults as the first president. Mrs. Edith Kalt-schne, Mrs. Marjorie Allan and Mrs. Margaret Green, followed in line.

A beautiful candle lighted cake, a taper for each officer, was served. The next meeting will be the Christmas party with hostesses, Mrs. Edith Kalt-schne, Mrs. Emma Oris, Mrs. Margaret Green and Mrs. Sue Worrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mahoney and family and Mrs. Glenn Sinclair spent last Sunday at the Jefferson Barracks hospital in St. Louis visiting Mrs. Sinclair's husband.

Mrs. Rudolph Kettlekamp of Pleasant Plains entertained the Ashland two table bridge club at her home last Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tucker and Mrs. Leta Hammack attended Friends Night last Monday at the Rushville Shrine lodge. Mrs. Tucker served as escort to the banner bearer. Mr. Tucker served as worthy guard and Mrs. Hammack banner bearer.

Benston Urges Vets To Protect Benefits

Veterans of all wars were urged to stick together and protect benefits which are now given them by law, in a Veterans Day address here Friday by Lester R. Benston, director of rehabilitation of the American Legion, Department of Illinois.

Speaking to several hundred persons in Central Park at the conclusion of the Veterans Day parade, Benston said "legislation benefiting veterans and their families will remain on the books just so long as the veterans take an interest and protect their rights."

Benston, active in American Legion and veterans affairs for many years, advised all veterans to get into organizations and work for their common good, and the good of their dependents.

"The responsibility does not end when veterans are discharged," he said. "Men and women who have served their country should get into veterans organizations and take part in community life."

Hits Bradley Report

Benston was especially critical of the Bradley report which indicated that expenditures for veterans might be reduced as much as 20 per cent because of Social Security and other advancements within the last two decades. He counseled veterans to resist movements which would scale down benefits of veterans of any wars.

The speaker explained that until two years ago Nov. 11 was solely a World War I holiday, marking Armistice Day in 1918, but that it has been proclaimed a day for recognition of all veterans.

The rehabilitation director was introduced by Commander Edward Witham of Jacksonville Post 279.

American Legion, after an impressive patriotic parade and opening ceremonies in the park. Veterans of several wars and representatives of a number of veterans organizations participated in the parade and program.

School Bands March

Colors of the veterans posts moved at the head of the parade, followed by the Jacksonville high school band, fire apparatus, veterans marching units, cars representing various groups, and the Routt high and parochial school band.

A large number of disabled veterans from the Jacksonville State hospital were in the line of march. Fred R. Bailey and Darrell Berne served as marshals of the parade.

Assembling south of the Civil War monument in Central Park, the Veterans Day program opened with the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the massed bands of Jacksonville high and Routt high schools.

The invocation was offered by Rev. Gerald Miller, pastor of Central Christian church.

Commander Witham then introduced presidents and representatives of the various veterans groups and auxiliaries, who were seated in front of the monument.

A wreath was placed on the monument by Mrs. Eula Bland in memory of the dead of all wars.

The exercises were brought to a close with the invocation by Rev. Miller, presentation of colors, the firing of a salute, and taps.

To remove stubborn stains from the sink, rub the spots with a paste made from cream of tartar and peroxide.

SHE WON'T GO BACK—An Enoch Arden tale, with a reverse twist, unfolded in Canonsburg, Pa. Mrs. Lore Supinsky is happily married to her American ex-soldier husband, John. But her first husband, former Nazi Storm Trooper, has come back from a Russian prison after being declared legally dead. He says he'll fight the "death certificates," but Mrs. Supinsky says she'll stay married to John nonetheless. The Supinskys are shown above with their children, Barbara, left, and Patricia, right.

MEMORY LANE

SOME CLASS

Remember when automobiles were trimmed with enough brass to put a fire engine to shame? It added a lot of "class" to the old family car as it chugged down Main Street. But when Father made you responsible for keeping it polished, you began to wonder if the added "class" was worthwhile. Remember?

Our competent organization is always ready to render friendly and sincere assistance to those who are stunned by the loss of a loved one.

BIG LIFT FOR LUMBER—Logman's prayer answered is this Goliath on wheels. Shown lifting 40,000 pounds of iron-wood logs, it's capable of unloading a 50,000-pound truckload with one bite. The huge machine merely inserts its 10-foot wedges beneath the load on the truck, then clamps two tremendous tusks over the top. This is a far cry from the old method of dumping the load then lifting a few logs at a time for stacking. Engine and generator at rear power the lifting mechanism and electric motor in each wheel. Dixon And Cory
Vows Exchanged
At Kane Home

KANE, Ill.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Cory of Kane was the scene Thursday at 7 p.m. of the wedding of their daughter, Marjorie Toinette, and Durward Belmont Dixon, son of Mrs. D. B. Dixon and the late D. B. Dixon of Kane.

The single ring ceremony was performed by Dr. C. L. Peterson, pastor of the Kane Methodist church before an altar formed with baskets of white mums and greenery and lighted tapers.

The bride chose for her wedding a street length dress of light blue faille trimmed with navy velvet with which she wore navy accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Thomas G. Roady, Jr., of this city, a sister of the groom. Mrs. Roady was wearing a street length dress of dark grey also trimmed with velvet. She carried a hand bouquet of red carnations. Kenneth Cory, brother of the bride, was the best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Cory home with the bride's cake being cut and served by Mrs. William Elmore of Greenfield, a sister of the groom. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Dixon left for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination and upon their return will make their home on a farm north of Kane.

Mrs. Dixon is a graduate of the Carrollton Community Unit High School and studied at Blackburn College, Carlinville. Prior to her marriage she was employed in the office of the International Shoe Company in Jerseyville.

Mr. Dixon is a graduate of the Rockbridge Community Unit High school and of the University of Illinois where he became a member of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity. He is a lieutenant in the organized Reserve Corps, being a World War II veteran. He is a member of the board of directors of the Greene County Farm Bureau and has been engaged in farming for a number of years.

BROKELY IS VERY SLOW ON THE RETURN WHEN HE BORROWS DOUGH FROM A PAL . . .

Day of the Outlaw

By Lee Wells

Copyright 1955, by Lee Wells. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: An outlaw pack, strained by inner dissension, is driven by the sheriff. The bandits have taken over the town, seized guns and murdered one man. One outlaw, Tex Darrow, has recognized Vivian, Lee's, as an old friend from Wichita. Later Vivian asks Tex to accompany her home. She is worried about Avn Rikes, widow of the bartender, murdered by the outlaws.

He dropped his hands, smiled and walked to the door. As he turned the knob, her arms went about his neck and she pulled his head down. Her lips met his, pressed close. She stepped back, leaving Dan to stare in amazement at her. She opened the door, smiling softly.

"Wait."

She ran from the room. Her steps faded swiftly and Dan paced to the window, frowning, wondering what Vivian had in mind. He turned when she came into the room. Dan saw the gun in her hand and his jaw dropped.

"Where did you get that?"

"I've had it since . . . the old days. I've kept it well hidden. Here . . . use it."

DAN took the gun. He held it by its balance, his eyes alight. He shoved it in his holster, delighted to feel the old familiar weight on his hip again. Then he sobered and slowly handed it back to her.

"Keep it awhile," he said and she stared, not understanding.

"But Ava didn't care," Vivian said heavily. "Dan, if this thing hadn't come up, Ava would have left Tommy in six months."

"And now Tex," Dan said, pursuing her train of thought.

"Now there's Tex," she agreed. "It's made to order for him. He'll promise to take her out of here. He'll promise her the big towns, the excitement and all the things she's wanted." Vivian's lips curled. "Of course, Ava will have to make her payment ahead of time. Then Tex will ride out when he's tired and leave her. You know what the town would do to Ava then. Tex knows it, but he don't care. That's his way. I know. And I've been paying for it for years."

"What can I do?" he asked. "What can anyone do? Bruhn's gang holds all the face cards and the joker, Vivian."

He thrust it into her hands, picked up his hat and started toward the door, but Vivian blocked his way.

"Dan, what do you think of me now?" She made a small, pitiful gesture.

He placed his fingers under her chin and lifted her head. His voice deepened.

"It makes no difference. You know that."

He stepped back. "But it must. Dan, I've been no angel, though hard times can force a person to do strange things. I met Tex in Wichita. I should have known his kind, but he fooled me. Later I drifted into Colorado and then finally came here to Bitter. I thought I could start life new. But . . . the past catches up with you, I reckon."

He smiled, sensing her distress. "This changes nothing. You're Vivian McLear, still a woman I'm mighty proud to know."

He dropped his hands, smiled and walked to the door. As he turned the knob, her arms went about his neck and she pulled his head down. Her lips met his, pressed close. She stepped back, leaving Dan to stare in amazement at her. She opened the door, smiling softly.

"Dan, I'll expect you to do, Dan Murdock. You'll be back for the gun."

Dan stepped outside and she closed the door. He still felt the tingle of Vivian's kiss. He shook him. He remembered Paula's hurt look when she had seen him with Vivian.

PAULA swung around from the desk. She looked hard at him and her chin lifted ever so slightly before she turned back to the desk. Dan came up to the counter and waited. The silence grew between them. He finally spoke awkwardly, studying his blazer fingers.

"Where's Phil?"

"I don't know," she said sheepishly. Dan shifted his weight.

"Mad because of—" "Mad!" she echoed cutting him short and looked up in pretended surprise. "What should I be mad about? You can walk with whom you please."

He grinned and she was all the more angry that she had trapped herself. Dan's smile vanished.

"She'd been visiting Ava, and these renegades are loose."

"You did the right thing, Mr. Murdock," she said quickly. "You're really not interested and it's none of my business."

"But, I don't want you to think I became suddenly angry. His words grew gruff and slightly edged. "At Ava's, Vivian learned something about this gang, and she can help us. I have to find Phil."

"He's a round town somewhere," Paula said stiffly.

CARNIVAL

ASHLAND

ASHLAND — Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Senters were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Horn and Mrs. Barbara Gillmore of Peoria and Reginald Senters of LaSalle.

Mrs. Lizzie Edwards was admitted to the Springfield Memorial hospital the forepart of the week for medical treatment.

Mrs. Tommy Adkins and her brother, William Newton, left Monday night for Louisville, Ky., being called there by the serious illness of their brother, Gilbert Newton.

Friends here have received word of the critical illness of Mrs. Leslie Gabehart who is a patient in the Monticello hospital. The Gabearts are former residents of Ashland.

Mrs. L. Woods entertained the members of her bridge club Wednesday evening at her home.

Richard Shannon of Bloomfield, Colo., was guest of honor at dinner Tuesday evening at the home of his sister, Mrs. Eva Robinson. Other guests were Mrs. E. U. Shannon, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Siebermann and Miss Gussie Giller of this city.
